PAVING MAKING RAPID PROGRESS.

Work was begun Monday morning on paving Bandera Avenue from the intersection of North Front street to the southwest corner of College Square. By Tuesday evening the work was completed and the street opened for traffic. The paving is from curb to curb and is as pretty a piece of work as one could wish to see.

Following the work there, North Front street was paved the length of the depot block and from the curb to the railroad right of way. As we go to press plans are completed and work is in progress on an extension of the paving across the railroad at the first crossing both east and west of the depot and south the full length of the block to the intersection of Carle Avenue. Part of this paving will be only an 18-foot roadway.

An effort is also being made to extend the paving north along both Harper Avenue and Bandera Avenue to the courthouse square and the full length of the courthouse block along the south side. If completed this will tie the courthouse and almost the entire business section of the town up in a tripple loop of paved streets and give a paved approach to both the Baptist and the Methodist churches.

The work is being done by volunteer subscriptions of the citizenship of the town, assisted by funds from this Commissioner's precinct. As always in such undertakings in Hondo, the public is responding liberally, but the brunt is falling on the property owners fronting the improvements and especially so where the paving is brought up to the curb. As the work progresses enthusiasm for the improvements keeps pace and there may be other extensions; such, for instance, as extending the work along Bandera Avenue to the Lutheran church and along North Front to the light plant.

In addition to the help the railroad is giving on the two crossings on their right-of-way, the yard between the switch tracks north of the depot and the street is being paved by the railroad company. This improvement of the yard and the street will largely abate the dust nuisance from which the people along North Front have long suffered, especially in dry weather and busy seasons when traffic is heavy. The paving work thus becomes an asset both for dry as well as wet weather, and aside from its utility value gives our town an attractive appearance that must appeal to the aesthetic tastes of any one with a spark of civic pride.

Mrs. Otis Schuehle arrived last Thursday from Wharton to attend the Pfeil-Neuman wedding in San Antonio. She was joined by Mr. Schuehle, who arrived the following day, for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crouch and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schuehle. Mr. Schuehle leaves the latter part of the week for Corpus Christi where he has accepted a position with the classified ad department of the Corpus Christi Times. Mrs. Schuehle will join him on July 1.

Mr. F. Marion Davis arrived Saturday afternoon from Throckmorton for a short visit with homefolks. He was accompanied back Sunday by his wife, Mrs. Davis, and little son, who spent the past two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Rothe.

PFEIL-NEUMAN.

A simple but pretty wedding was solemnized, Thursday, June 11, at 2:00 o'clock in the Alamo Methodist Church of San Antonio, when Miss Frances Neuman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neuman of Lytle became the lovely bride of Mr. Roy Pfeil of Hondo. The bride has as her only attendant, Miss Ruby Thompson of Hallettsville, while Mr. Raymond Martin of Hondo acted as best man. The bride was beautiful in a sky blue crepe dress and blue picture hat, with matching accessories, and wearing a shoulder corsage of pink rosebuds.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Pfeil left by train for a bridal trip through the Grand Canyon and Colorado. For traveling the bride wore a becoming black and white suit and white hat with black and white accessories. After June 25, Mr. and Mrs. Pfeil will be at home in Hondo.

The bride has many friends in Hondo having spent most of her life here. She is a graduate of Hondo High School and attended the University of Texas. For the past few years she has been teaching the Longview school. Mr. Pfeil has been employed here by the Southern Pacific for a number of years and during his sojourn in Hondo has made many friends.

Those who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Neuman and Mrs. Rosie Foster of Lytle, Mrs. Harry Crouch and Mr. Raymond Martin of Hondo, Miss Ruby Thompson of Hallettsville and Mrs. Otis Schuehle of Corpus Christi.

The many friends of the bride and groom extend their best wishes for a prosperous, happy married life.

W. M. S.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the New Fountain Church met Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Aug. Stiegler. The Devotional opened with singing "My Jesus, I Love Thee," and a prayer by Mrs. William Wiemers. Rev. C. F. Boatman spoke on the Missionary topic, "Daring to Accept the Challenge of God and Prayer." His words were freighted with the ripe fruit of matured thoughts and will be remembered by every one present. Rev. E. W. Deckert followed with a short but interesting talk on the same topic. After a short business session the meeting closed.

A social hour followed during which the hostess served delicious refreshments. We hope every member will be present at our next meeting which will be held July 3rd.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED.

Miss Julia Schroeder, whose marriage takes place Sunday in San Antonio, was honoree of a charming party Wednesday afternoon, with Miss Thelma Lynch, a member of Miss Schroeder's bridal party, as the hostess. The guests included a number of friends whom the honoree made while teaching school here several years ago.

As the guests entered they were presented lavender paper mache and candy corsages with tallies in lavender attached, striking the color-note for the appointments. Bowls of lavender mints were placed on the bridge tables.

After several interesting games of bridge, Mrs. Horace Bradley received a Parrish print for high score prize and Mrs. Harry Crouch was given a jar of lavender bath salts for low score. These were presented to the honoree who also received a set of dainty guests' towels hand embroidered in lavender from the hostess.

A delicious grape ice course with angel food cake was served.

Miss Schroeder wore a lovely dress with tight fitting bodice of white organdy and full, ankle length skirt of black eyelet embroidery on white organdy, and black and white slippers. Miss Lynch wore a becoming ankle-length lavender organdy, with touches of lace and green velvet ribbon.

The guests were Mesdames Schroeder, mother of the honoree, Harry Crouch, Horace Bradley, Meliff Lip-pold, Jerry Smith, N. B. Nance, Will Crow, and Misses Octavia and Anne Davis, Lillian and Josephine Brucks, Julia Schroeder and the hostess, Miss Thelma Lynch.

P. T. A. DELEGATION.

The local club of the Parent-Teacher Association was well represented at the P. T. A. meeting at Devine, Friday, with a delegation of thirteen present. The occasion was the visit of Mrs. Adams, Fifth District Chairman of the P. T. A. and an art exhibit of a Mrs. King, who was chosen last year as a representative from Texas and the United States, in painting in foreign countries.

Mrs. Adams spoke on the need of advertising of and pledging the support to Texas-made products. In addition to the address, a delightful musical and literary program was rendered.

Those present from Hondo were Mesdames Joe Dillon, T. B. Knopp, T. C. Barnes, O. B. Taylor, Ben Oefinger, J. A. Horger, E. J. Leinweber, R. A. Carter, Walter McLaugherty, R. W. Gaines, L. J. Brucks and Prof. and Mrs. W. N. Saathoff.

FRANK M. KEMPF MISSING.

SEARCHING FOR BODY OF MISSING DAIRYMAN.

Frank M. Kempf, 50, dairyman, who was residing alone with his aged father, three miles east from town, was reported missing, early Tuesday morning by his father, who had heard loud talking in the yard at night; but thought neighbors had called. Kempf's car was gone and he was believed to have left with only his trousers pulled on, hat, shoes and other things lying as he had left them on retiring.

Local officers, with Sheriff Schuehle of Hondo, officers of San Antonio and local citizens hunted all day Tuesday for the missing man. An iron rod and a misquite club with blood on them were found near the home and cartracks led off on an untraveled road, coming into the highway at Natalia. Late in the afternoon, a Ford sedan, was found in a side street in West San Antonio, abandoned, with both blood and hair in the car, which convinced officers that he was murdered near his own home and hauled off in his own car. He was taken from his home early Monday night, and it is believed his slayers have disposed of the body in Chicon or Medina Lake, weighted and may never rise.

Constable Grant, who worked all day Tuesday on the case thinks Wednesday morning that he has solved the matter, both as to the intent of the crime and the men who did it; whose whereabouts were known Tuesday evening and Sheriff Schuehle was expected to make arrests of two San Antonio men believed to hold the secret to the mysterious disappearance. Kempf was a good, law abiding harmless man, who stayed at home and worked hard. His father had just come to spend a few days with him, when he was taken away.

The foregoing is taken from the Devine News, Mr. Kempf's local paper. For later developments, we copy from Thursday morning's Express.

WOMAN INVOLVED IN DEVINE MYSTERY.

A woman entered the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Frank M. Kempf, Devine dairyman, Wednesday when officers announced that tracks made by a woman's shoe had been found near the garage, where Kempf is known to have been previous to his disappearance. Several tracks found there were undoubtedly made by a woman and by the same shoes, it was declared.

Posses were also dragging Medina Lake in addition to Chicon Lake and the Medina River in searching for the body. Medina Lake entered the mystery when several persons reported finding tracks of a large car which had traveled an unused road leading to the lake. This car is said to have been traveling very fast judging from the appearance of the tire tracks. This car can be identified by several persons from the tires, it is declared.

Car Mileage Checked. It was also found that car of Kempf, which was found in San Antonio had been driven just 32 miles since the oil was changed in Devine the day before he disappeared. The speedometer was checked against a sticker giving the mileage when the oil was changed and was found to have been driven 32 miles, approximately the distance from the Kempf home to San Antonio.

In the meantime Capt. Aubrey Hopkins, acting chief of police, was following a clue here, which led San Antonio officers to believe the body might be found in San Antonio.

Hopkins would not divulge the nature of the information which he had received but he said his men were working on the theory that Kempf's body has been hidden in San Antonio.

Sheriff Schuehle and two Bexar county deputy sheriffs were searching Wednesday in the vicinity of Chicon Lake, a few miles from Hondo. Discovery of white clay caked on the wheels of Kempf's abandoned automobile led the officers to believe that the body might have been disposed of in or near the lake, where this type of clay abounds.

River Dragging Futile.

Bexar county deputy sheriffs returned to San Antonio late last night after an entire day spent in dragging the Medina River for one-quarter of a mile on either side of the Frio City Road bridge. They used grappling irons loaned them by the San Antonio Fire Department, and were aided by several expert swimmers among campers along the river who dove and hunted for the body in this way. They announced their intention of returning today to complete the search.

Three suspects who had been arrested by Sheriff Schuehle during his investigation of the kidnapping were released last night after establishing alibis. One of these had been held in the Bexar County jail while the other two were kept with Schuehle on his search for the body of Kempf.

Kempf, who is a bachelor and was known to have carried considerable money in his pockets, vanished following a mysterious visit by two men to his home two miles south of Devine early Tuesday morning.

A blood-stained iron bar was found near the house and other blood stains were found in the vicinity. Tracks showed where an automobile had been driven to the house then, through a cow lot, back to the road.

Kempf's car bore a large blood stain on the left side of the tonneau, on the floor and on the handle used in raising and lowering a window. The car, which was found abandoned at North Trinity and Leal streets Tuesday afternoon, was taken to the police station, where it was fingerprinted.

Sheriff Schuehle is making a diligent search for the guilty parties. There has evidently been a dastardly crime committed, and very clever means employed to hide the guilty ones, and all are hoping he will succeed in finding the perpetrators.

MRS. SPEECE ENTERTAINS

Mrs. R. W. Speece was hostess to the Rook Club and a few guests, Wednesday afternoon, with a lovely party where Rook was the means of entertainment. The home was beautifully decorated with Shasta daisies and fern.

Preceding the games, a refreshing iced pineapple ade was served. Later in the afternoon the hostess served delicious macaroon ice cream and angel food squares iced in yellow.

Those present were Mesdames L. E. Heath, H. J. Meyer, W. H. Smith, Earl Starnes, Earl Boon, B. R. Bradley, Ed Connevey, Eugene Mofield, Oreenith Fly, Henry Merriman, Marvin Beal, Vernon King, Roland Chan-acey T. C. Barnes and Misses Fannye Carle and Helen Breeding.

TEXAN FOR INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT.

Delegates from 244 Texas Lions will attend the Lions International Convention in Toronto, Canada, July 14-17 in support of Julien C. Hyer of Fort Worth, for International President of the Association. Mr. Hyer has served the International Association as First Vice President during the past year.

Texas Lions have completed arrangements for a special train to take them to the International Convention in Toronto. The train, according to present arrangements, will be made up at Dallas at 6:30 P. M. July 11. Unit cars will be spotted throughout Texas. Included with the special train for Toronto will be a car of Texas products and produce for distribution on the opening night of the Convention. The opening night of the Convention has been set aside by the International Committee as "Texas Night." Elaborate preparations have been made for "Texas Night" including the appearance of internationally known entertainers such as Romanelli's orchestra.

The election of officers of the Association will be held on the last day of the Convention. Julien Hyer by his outstanding record of service to the organization, to his own club, his District and State, and by order of succession in the international offices, is the logical successor to Earle W. Hodges of New York City for the office of President.

Texas claims to be the state of birth of Lionism since the first Lions Club ever organized was the Lions Club of San Antonio. Dallas entertained the first International Convention of Lions Clubs and also gave the young Association one of its first International Presidents, Mr. L. H. Lewis, now of San Antonio.

FIRST VICE PRESIDENT
LIONS INTERNATIONAL

It was sixteen years ago, two years before the founding of the International Association of Lions Clubs that the first Lions club at San Antonio came into existence. In the succeeding two years other Lions Clubs were formed and after formal organization of the association in June of 1917, the first Convention of Lions International was held at Dallas in the same year. Lionism not only found its birth in Texas, but has shown a consistent growth—until at the present time there are 244 clubs in the state—more than twice the number of clubs of the other service organizations combined. There are now approximately 2500 Lions Clubs in the United States and Canada with a membership only slightly less than 100,000.

QUIHI NOTES.

"Consider the lilies, how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." Luke 12: 27.

Sunday school and Bible class begins Sunday morning in Bethlehem Lutheran Church at 9 o'clock. Let all members and their friends be present.

Divine services will be held in Bethlehem Lutheran church in the German language at 10 A. M. All are cordially invited to all services in this church.

Sunday night at 8 o'clock a splendid musical-literary program will be given in Bethlehem Lutheran church by the Quihi Luther League. The purpose of this program is to afford wholesome and interesting entertainment to the hearers. Both the musical and literary numbers have been selected with care and doubtless will be greatly appreciated. A cordial invitation to come with your friends and neighbors, and hear and enjoy this program is extended to all.

A Luther League committee under the chairmanship of Mr. Otto Lindburg is arranging a splendid 4th of July program and celebration to be held in the Hy. J. Boehle grove. The intention is to make this a community celebration, which will afford parents an opportunity to come with their children and spend the day with neighbors and friends in the cool shade of the trees. For the boys and girls there will be games and all sorts of amusements.

A One-Man Job Throughout—The Oliver Hart-Parr Row Crop

Of course, the first thing you notice about the Oliver Hart-Parr Row Crop Tractor is those tip-toe wheels. But look closer, and you'll see that the way the tractor is put together is just as new, just as revolutionary, as the wheels.

It's assembled in units. The engine is one unit. The steering mechanism is another. The rear axle and axle carrier is still another. In all there are 8 units and each one can be removed quickly and easily—a one-man job. And they're all combined into the sturdiest most practical general purpose tractor ever built.

The Row Crop doesn't need adjustments often. But when an adjustment is needed, the job can be done quickly and easily by one man.

Come to our store and let us tell you about the revolutionary features of the new Row Crop.

AFTER 40 bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of piles and a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proven perfectly safe even for babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe; will not sicken you or weaken you; can be used without harm as often as your breath is bad, or when your tongue is coated; whenever a headachy, bilious, gassy condition warns of constipation.

The counts not results, but effort.
Silence is a great art of education.

Low Ayres, recently presented by Universal in the leading role of Erich Maria Remarque's powerful story of the World War, "All Quiet on the Western Front," now shows his versatility in a story of an entirely different nature which opens Saturday at the Colonial Theatre. "Many a Slip" is the title of this newest photoplay, and in it the handsome Lew is co-starred with Joan Bennett, youngest and not the least capable of the famous Bennett sisters. The story is one of the screen's most daring comedies, and traces the adventures of a boy and a girl who love not wisely, but too well. "Many a Slip" is said to be one of the most hilarious comedies yet to reach the screen. Supporting Miss Bennett and Ayers are such well-known screen favorites as Slim Summerville, Virginia Sale, J. C. Nugent and others.

In "Fighting Caravans" the actual thrills, the adventure, the romance of the heart-stirring period when the expansive West was still an untracked wilderness, actually lives again on the screen. For two days, Sunday and Monday, the stage of the Colonial Theatre, where "Fighting Caravans" opens, will become the historic ground on which one of the greatest and most vital dramas of all time takes place. Into the spectacular drama of conquest is woven, with all the charm of Zane Grey's great talent, a beautiful love story, of a man and a girl who meet as the dangerous trek begins, carry their love through a series of palpitating adventures, and reach the promised land together. Gary Cooper as the reckless young scout of the expedition gives one of the most convincing portrayals of his interesting career, with Lily Damita as the lovely heroine. Other important members of the cast are Fred Kohler, Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall.

Coming to the Colonial Theatre, a good-bad girl, "Laughing Sinners," Thursday and Friday, is the story of featuring that fascinating stellar light, Joan Crawford. Don't fail to meet Ivy Stevens, the girl who played wild at her game of life—until her lovers stacked the cards against her. With Joan Crawford in "Laughing Sinners" are Neil Hamilton, Clark Gable, Marjorie Rambeau and Cliff Edwards.

No picture of recent months has evoked more spontaneous praise from critics than has "Transgression," stirring drama which Herbert Brenon directed for Radio Pictures, and which is the current feature at the RKO-Majestic Theatre in San Antonio this week (June 18).
Starring in "Transgression" are Kay Francis, Paul Cavanagh, Ricardo Cortez and Nance O'Neill. The story deals with a husband who leaves his wife in Paris while he tries to build up a fortune in India. While in Paris the wife, due to loneliness, falls in love with another man, and when the husband returns she finds it difficult to go home with him. Brenon has achieved in this romantic drama what he considers the ultimate in screen perfection. The picture was adapted from Kate Jordan's novel "The Next Corner."

On the same program with "Transgression" is a bill of popular variety features. "Mac" Bridwell at the organ offers a novelty solo of popular songs, and parodies of new tunes. Dave Smason, concert violinist, presents as his number an arrangement of Drala's "Souvenir."

Joe Bell, the singing usher, offers a group of the most popular of the newer song hits. Bell style of crooning has made him a favorite with San Antonio audiences.

Completing the program are the Fox Movietone News, an illustrated sound cartoon and a selected short comedy.

BOY SCOUT NEWS.

Yoo-hoo, Skinny! Are you going to the Scout Camp this summer at Camp Fawcett? That is the question that every Scout is asking. Camp will open bright and early Wednesday morning, August 5, running for eight days. Camp fee is $6.00.

The entire Scout world has been saddened by the news of the sudden death of our newly elected President of the Boy Scouts of America, Mortimer L. Schiff. Mr. Schiff has made a wonderful contribution to the Scout Program, through an unselfish service over a period of years.

Chaplain John MacWilliams, our jolly Camp Director, is taking his vacation now and he and his family will be at the camp site during the month of July, unselfishly building things that will make Camp Fawcett a more attractive and a more beautiful place to live during camp.

Mayhew Lumber Company and the Fuller-Johnson Engine People have made us a contribution of a brand new engine for our well at camp. The engine is at the well, and it will soon be pumping a stream of pure cold drinking water for thirsty campers. We are especially indebted to Mr. Geo. C. Jolley, Manager of Mayhew Lumber Co., Uvalde, for his efforts in getting the Fuller-Johnson Co. to donate part of the cost of this fine camp equipment. More about camp later.

ACID STOMACH

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which will neutralize acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods once you learn how on this method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessors Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

By Albert Reese in The Daily Texan.

From the Owl.
"William Ritt, Central Press Sports Editor, rolled up his sleeves a few days ago, dug down into the murky files of athletic yesterdays and emerged with some enlightening statistics on how to get hurt, and where, in the line of athletic endeavor.

"Some extracts from Mr. Ritt's disclosures follow: Golf is three times as dangerous as winter sports. Of all accidents in sports, 12 per cent take place on the links, while only 4 per cent occur in winter sports. Incidentally, 60 per cent of the golf accidents are caused by slips and falls, and only 40 per cent by failure to duck when somebody yells 'Fore!' Thirty per cent of sport accidents take place in country and woods, and along streams. What per cent of accidents is caused by hunters shooting themselves in the pants is not revealed.

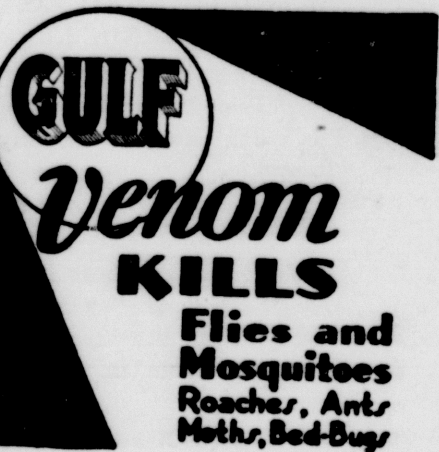

"The report also fails to state whether fishermen hooking their own thumbs instead of the elusive trout are also included. From casual observation, it would seem that this type of injury must run into millions.

"Football, amazing as it may seem, is no more dangerous than bowling! Both sports account for only two per cent each of the accidents listed, against athletics.

"Horse back riding accounts for 6 out of every 100 sport casualties.

"Ten per cent of the accidents are charged to picnics, which show the hideous influences of indoor baseball and that other dangerous pastime—opening pickle jars.

"Baseball, basketball, tennis and golf together account for 40 per cent

Ton for ton . . . mile for mile Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks cost less to operate

It is a matter of record, among more and more large fleet operators, that Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks give a lower transportation cost than any other truck of equal capacity in the market.

These firms are finding, through experience, that Chevrolet sedan deliveries are capable of 20 miles or better, to the gallon of gasoline; that Chevrolet 1 1/2-ton trucks are making fuel records which are relatively just as high. That it costs very little to keep Chevrolet trucks in first-class working order. That Chevrolet service charges on both parts and labor are exceptionally low. That the active life of Chevrolet trucks extends well past the 50,000 mileage mark.

To place your hauling on a minimum-cost basis—and keep it there—put Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks to work. A wide variety of Chevrolet-built bodies is now available. And delivered prices of Chevrolet trucks, complete and ready for work, are based on low chassis-cost and low body-cost, plus only reasonable charges for handling and financing.

MRS. TAYLOR ENTERTAINS.

The Ladies' Bridge Club and a number of additional bridge guests were delightfully entertained, Thursday afternoon of last week, with Mrs. O. B. Taylor extending the hospitality of seven tables of bridge. Pot plants and bowls of sweet peas were attractively arranged in the living room and dining room.

After several hours of bridge, Mrs. F. H. Schweers received the membership prize for high score and Miss Lillian Brucks cut for consolation prize among the members. Guest prizes were won by Mrs. T. B. Knopp for high score and Mrs. John Becker for consolation.

The hostess served a refreshing lunch of molded fruit salad, chicken sandwiches, saltines, mahogany cake and fruit punch.

The guest-list included Mesdames F. H. Schweers, E. J. Murray, O. H. Miller, W. H. Smith, John Becker, Elmer Leinweber, Howard Short, L. J. Notwithstanding the low price of all kinds of farm produce and the consequent depression in business, Mr. R. A. Mr. Carter is firmly convinced that tractor farming has come to this section to stay, and there is no doubt about the Oliver line being ideal for the conditions found here.

BAPTIST NEWS NOTES

The Bible school will begin at 9:45 A. M. next Sunday. The superintendent plants to give the teachers more time for their important work. Let all take notice and endeavor to be "on time", however, let no one decline to come. Better be a little late than not come at all. The actual work of teaching will not begin until after 10 o'clock. Come. Preaching at eleven o'clock. Take a vacation and come to the House of the Lord, and try worship for a rest.

Note well, our Sunday night services will be held on the lawn, in the cool outdoors. Will begin at 8:15. Everybody welcome. Straight biblical preaching; for we all need to do some straight biblical living. By coming, you will both help and get benefit.

People are keeping an anxious weather eye on the clouds these days. With one of the most promising corn crops ever seen in this country just now in the critical roasting-ear stage, a good general rain is anxiously hoped for. There has probably never before been so large an acreage in corn as this country now has and there has surely never been in this writer's 35 year's observation in Medina County a crop that promised more than the present one, but with the thermometer hovering close to the 100 mark every afternoon a rain must come soon or the crop will be cut short.

BADGER SWIM.

The Baptist Badgers enjoyed a picnic supper and swimming party at Castroville Tuesday evening, June 16, and considered the strictly stag affair a great success.

A refreshing swim in the Medina River with the added attraction of swimming and diving feats, were the means of entertainment. This was followed by a fine supper which consisted of fried chicken, pickles, bread and butter sandwiches and lemonade.

Those present were Messrs. Ralph de Montel, Homer Rothe, Jack Maske, Thomas Taylor, Tony Taylor, Roy Schweers, Carter Snook, Glen Jgnes and Rev. Merrill.

EICHENROHT-BRUCKS.

Of widespread interest was the announcement of the marriage of Miss Bess Brucks, eldest daughter of Judge and Mrs. L. J. Brucks of Hondo, to Mr. B. R. Eichenroht of San Antonio, the wedding having taken place Tuesday, June 9, in Houston, Texas. After a brief visit in Galveston, Mr. and Mrs. Eichenroht are at home in San Antonio.

The bride received her degree from the University of Texas and for a number of years has been a popular member of the high school faculty of Hondo, having specialized in the teaching of history. She has many friends who wish her happiness and prosperity in her future life.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN'S WIDOW SUCCUMBS HERE.

Hints For Homemakers

THE next time you start out on a shopping tour put a few pieces of candy in your handbag. Sugar is one of the world's greatest energy foods, and it's simply marvelous how a couple of pieces of candy in the midst of a long afternoon in the shops will drive away that exhausted feeling, giving you plenty of energy to carry on.

A Turkish towel placed in the bottom of the dishpan or sink will greatly lessen the chances of breaking fragile glass or chinaware while it is being washed. The glass and china should not be placed in the dishpan until it has been filled with as much water, of the desired temperature, as you need.

POLITICAL PREPAREDNESS.

In view of the fact that in a few months we will be reading of plans and platforms by the different candidates, all of which will be offered to cure the depression and save the people, I wish to offer one plank which I think would be acceptable to every one except the very rich.

I would like to see an income tax law enacted that would limit incomes to one hundred thousand dollars. There are hundreds of men in the United States whose incomes run from one hundred thousand to almost one hundred million.

I would favor a law that would take that huge income and apply it to reducing the common man's taxes.

A great many farmers, working men and trades people were unable to pay their taxes this year, and if present conditions continue there will be twice as many who cannot pay their taxes next year.

We need a better distribution of wealth, and a better distribution of the tax burden.

Any one knows that a farmer cannot pay high taxes with 16-cent oats; and it appears now that cotton, corn and wheat farmers are not going to be able to pay their taxes without borrowing the money.

I am offering the above mentioned plank to any candidate who wishes to adopt it as being the best farm relief that has been offered so far.

Very truly yours,

E. J. MURRAY.

IN MEMORY OF MR. A. A. MASTERS.

Mr. Masters was born April 6, 1889, at St. Joe, Texas. He was married at Oglesby, Texas, March 2, 1907, to Miss Willie Bankhead. He was injured in a fall from a pile-driver rig at D'Hanis, Texas, April 11, 1930, and since that time he had been confined to his bed until the time of his passing away, March 20, 1931, at Hondo, Texas.

Surviving him are his wife and five children, Aubrey, Lester, Travis, Myrtice and Doris. His mother, Mrs. J. E. Masters, of Floresville, Texas; three brothers, Charlie, Ben and Bart, all of Floresville, Texas; five sisters, Mrs. Ida McGrady of St. Joe, Texas, Mrs. Lula Atkins of Wichita Falls, Texas, Mrs. Mattie Park, Miss Minnie Masters and Mrs. Nora Edes of Floresville, Texas. All were present at the funeral except one sister, Mrs. Lula Atkins. Among the out-of-town people attending the funeral was Otis Bankhead of Austin, brother of Mrs. A. A. Masters.

Short services were held at Hondo from there he was carried to Floresville and laid to rest in the Fairview Cemetery.

The death of Mr. Masters marks the passing of one who was truly a blessing to all who knew him. His passing is a loss that will be felt greatly among his relatives and friends for he was one whose character won the love and respect of all, and made him a man among men. Those who knew Mr. Masters were especially his smile. He was always a cheerful man and he wore a smile through the hardest fights of life.

Before his death, Mr. Masters expressed a desire that his children go on day by day doing only those things which are worthy of respect. He and his three sons have for several years worked side by side building bridges in different parts of the state. We know his sons will miss him greatly as they go about their work; but his memory will ever linger in their hearts giving them courage to fight life's battles bravely, for Mr. Masters was worthy in every respect of the name of — father.

Dear One, you are gone,

And we miss you everywhere,
We miss your tender smile,
And your gentle word of cheer;
We miss your sunny presence
Every hour of the day,
And our hearts are sad and lonely
Since you are gone away.

Dear One, you are gone,

And you took the sunshine bright
That made our home an Eden
Of love and joy and light;
You took the song and laughter
That gladdened all the day
And made lighter all the burdens
We found along the way.

Dear One, you are gone,

But on Heaven's Golden shore
You are happy in His Love,
Free from sorrow evermore;
With a harp and golden crown
There at Heaven's pearly gate
Now with angels bright and shining,
I know you watch and wait.

Dear One, you are there!

And on a glad tomorrow
We shall lay aside our cross
Of pain and loss and sorrow,

WHEN TO ADVERTISE.

The question most frequently asked of advertising men is: "When should I advertise?"

There are two kinds of advertising — constructive and destructive. The question can be answered by the simple expedient of determining which kind of advertising you prefer to have associated with your business.

Constructive advertising is consistent advertising; it builds business in much the same way that compound interest builds bank accounts. It pays dividends on dividends, gathers momentum with successive months and years of consistent effort, and finally attains such strength and vigor that it crashes through periods of depression with the irresistible force of a Coca-Cola or the contagious enthusiasm of a Frigidaire.

The question therefore answers itself. If you want to advertise constructively, the time to advertise is now—today, tomorrow, next week and next month.

Of course there is the other alternative. A commercial history of the country would reveal the interesting fact that almost every business advertises. And if you prefer to advertise in the destructive way, that is your privilege. But did you ever stop to think what a destructive advertisement really is? An advertised bankruptcy sale is a destructive ad; a closing-out sale employs enormous space for destructive purposes.

Constructive advertising is cheaper, more pleasant, more profitable. Regardless of the amount of space used, fresh, clean and interesting copy, constantly displayed, leads the way to bigger, better business. A little more constructive advertising would mean a little less depression. There is no question about it; the time to advertise is now.—The Editorial Digest.

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

IN this season of sneezes and sniffles, the ordinary handkerchief is a prolific source of infection, but have you seen the new, hemstitched issue handkerchiefs, so inexpensive they can be discarded after using, but not a bit like the old-style paper affair? They come in pastel shades and their soft texture is a real relief to the suffering nose.

Mirrors should never be cleaned with soap suds. The best results are obtained by rubbing them with a paste of whiting and water. Then polish with a dry chamois to remove the powder.

And in robes all bright and glistening We shall join you on that shore There to be with you forever Singing praises evermore.

THIS ECONOMIC DEPRESSION.

It will be remembered that FARMING, in a recent discussion of the present business panic, pointed out that:—

First, the basic cause for it is the fact that the country's supply of actual money has been cornered, withdrawn from active circulation in the channels of trade and locked up in idleness in the strong boxes of the big financiers.

Second, that the purpose of these big financiers in so "cornering" the money supply was to create a money stringency which would force the issuance of vast sums of non-taxable government bonds in which they can invest their now idle dollars.

Third, that all other alleged causes, such as depreciated silver, overproduction of farm products, displacement of labor by improved machinery, disorganized world trade, etc., were mere incidents to the effect flowing from the main cause; symptoms only and nothing more of what ails us.

And fourth, that only two cures were possible; either, first, the issuance of sufficient government credit money to break the "corner," or second, a surrender to the hungry bond cormorants and the issuance of enough non-taxable bonds to absorb their hoarded wealth of cash money and bring it back into the channels of trade.

No one who has been observant of the moral and political cowardice that has been the chief characteristic of recent administrations expected the present one to be brave or honest enough to resort to the first alternative.

Late press dispatches carry the news of the administration's first surrender, on the other hand, to the demand for bonds.

The first step in its debasement to the will of the money lords comes in the issuance of $800,000,000 in eighteen-year 3½ per cent bonds to take up short-term loans.

Aside from the abasement all true patriots must feel at this subservience to the will of the money power, two very disturbing factors are noted in connection therewith.

First, this enormous amount of bonds was immediately over-subscribed seven and one-half times, showing to what fabulous sum these hoarded dollars have reached while awaiting this class of investment.

And second, it is announced that there are outstanding the enormous sum of $3,400,000,000 in these same short term loans; sufficient excuse, now that the start has been made, for the administration to bond our government beyond all hope of release for years to come.

Now that the choice has been to surrender, the job had as well be made complete and at once.

The sooner the bond-buyers are satiated just that earlier our accursed mushroom prosperity will return to poison us again with its eventual toad-stool effect.

The American people are slaves to a financial oligarchy more soul-less and heartless than any pagan king that ever ruled with blood and iron.

THESE TAXES,

ADVISES CHEERFULNESS.

Fletcher's Farming (Hondo): One of the reasons why little in the way of tax reform can be hoped for from the present Legislature is because some of those loudest in protesting an increase in their taxes are most insistent upon the State embarking into new enterprises calling for the expenditure of more money. The only way to reduce taxes is to reduce expenditures.

The Legislature has had to look for new sources of revenue because it had the duty of finding the money to satisfy appropriations. And the appropriations have been demanded by public sentiment in order that necessary projects may be carried on. Unless the public schools, the Confederate pensions, the judicial establishment, the executive and legislative offices and the various continuing commissions shall be reduced or abolished, the money for their support must be provided and appropriated. Certainly our State, and all the States, have gradually erected a tall structure of administration. Certainly taxes have increased much beyond any relative enhancement of income. But when we look the field over we find few or no tax-supported agencies or departments we would dispense with. They all seem essential to the public's well-being. The simplicity which obtained when our State, or any other, was new and sparsely settled can not be reverted to under the conditions of population and public convenience now arrived at. But this much can be agreed to: No experiments shall be indulged until the wealth of the State shall have grown to equal the needs of the tax makers.—Dallas News.

FIRE ON THE FARM.

During 1930 farmers suffered one of the greatest fire losses in agricultural history—a total of about $125,000,000, according to the National Fire Waste Council, as compared with an average of $100,000,000 in "normal" years.

This unusually heavy fire loss was attributed largely to the drought, which increased the common farm hazards such as highly combustible buildings, isolated from the protection of adequately equipped fire companies, and general lack of fire-quenching facilities.

Even so, the annual farm fire loss cannot be justified. Numerous studies have been completed and others are being made on how to reduce the waste. Many authoritative booklets, dealing with every phase of the agricultural fire problem, are available. The barrier in the way of prevention, of course, is the same on farms as in cities—the refusal of the individual to learn the fundamentals of fire prevention, and his carelessness in permitting unnecessary hazards to go uncorrected.

It cannot be questioned that the annual fire waste has done much to prevent farm prosperity. Even if all property were covered by insurance—which is not—no policy can compensate for destroyed buildings and crops, wasted time, devastated land. Every farmer should take steps to make his property as "fire-proof" as is humanly possible.—Selected.

INCREASING OFFICES.

Editor Fletcher Davis of Fletcher's Farming, published at Hondo, finds as follows:

"The best form of farm relief would be a reduction in the farmer's taxes."

Doesn't seem to be much hope, as reducing expenses is the only chance for that. Even the state automobile patrol has been increased three-fold, and when offices are once created, they are never reduced, that is, hardly ever.—Fred B. Robinson in Waco News-Tribune.

There died at Dallas on the night of May 24 one for whose passing unnumbered unbidden tears will start from the eyes of many farm women and farm boys and girls of Texas for whom she labored unselfishly over many of the best years of her life. As a special writer on the Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News for some twelve years, Mrs. Nelle Baird contacted with a greater number of people than it is the privilege of most of us to do and all learned to love her for her many excellent qualities of head and heart. Her memory will long remain green where her gentle spirit implanted it, and knowing her as it was our privilege so to do, we know that

"To live in the hearts of those we leave behind us is not to die" is a claim justly her own.

While a mere crumb is welcome by a starving man, President Hoover's penny-pinching departmental economies at Washington, after his party had failed miserably in the chance to do something worthwhile in Congress, is strongly reminiscent of his wheatless days when, by his orders, we saved wheat to throw to the chickens by spoiling our bread by mixing corn meal with our flour. It will be just as helpful in effecting real economy—and again fooling the people,

One of the deplorable effects of the present low price of all manner of farm products is the impetus it gives to the waste that has ever characterized American farming. Without the incentive of prospective profits we are prone to leave unsaved in times of abundance that which if husbanded might safeguard against famine conditions which it is always possible may overtake us.

THE HOMESTEAD.

By Anton Romatka.

Follow the road through the emerald lea,
Over the hill, through the brush and the wood;
When there in the vale a cottage you'll see,
Where shepherds still battle for livelihood.

So dear is the cot, so simple and old,
In flowers on fruit trees hidden away.
Sunsets have painted its windows with gold,
Shingles have fondled the moon's gentle ray.

And near the house runs a murmuring rill,
And there I have watched full many a day
My friends the wild creatures with secret thrill;

Oh, there I was happy and sang in my play.

And when grim winter with ice and with snow

The death toll from beasts of the forest took;

So pleasant then was the hearth fires glow,
So cheering the song, absorbing the book.

And mother and father, all kith and kin,
In winter or spring or summer or fall,
In forest, or meadow, or house within
Each in his own way made happy us all.

And all the lovely environment move
With the thread of fate on the loom of time
A mantle of virtue and peace,—then strove
With blessings of love to baptize the clime.

MOON.

By Nelson Klose.

The lazy, waning moon suspended in the sky
Floats slowly westward on its trail so high;
Washed by the white clouds on golden heights

'Tis a glorious symbol of peace to the nights.

Clear light strained by clouds of golden sheen

Comes to my eye as a beautiful, shimmering beam;

Ah! what beauty there is unknown and un-found

It isn't the beauty of the moon so full and round.

'Tis guarding us always in nightly light of love

And covers the land in peace from heaven above.

Delightful spectre of the sky
Floating endlessly on high!

Aged 16.

MAY MORNING.

Forgotten are my roses,
Golden yellow,
Nodding on their stems;
The amethyst and amber lights,
Glimmering through the trees;
For remembered little loves
Dim the beauty of the dawn.
But, though my heart is filled with longing,
With the pain of that remembering,
I know happiness—
For a red bird is singing
In my wild cherry tree!

—MARY OCTAVIA DAVIS.

MAKE SOME ONE HAPPY.

By Emma Allen Bailey.

Let us make someone happy
As here we march along,
It is our joyful mission
To fill some soul with song;
To fill some heart with sunshine
All sadness to subdue,
We will be happy too.

KINDNESS.

By Irene Terry.

If you want to be happy
Make somebody glad,
If you want to be blue
Make somebody sad.

There's a rule in life
You will find is true,
As you measure to others
It is measured to you.

If you want to be rich
Just scatter your gold
Help widows and orphans,
The crippled and old.

No profit to you
Your riches to keep,
For as a man soweth
So also he reaps.

If you have no money
To lift some one's load,
A kind word will help
To brighten the road.

Life is too short
To be angry or cold
And kindness is often
More prized than gold.

MIGHTY LIKE HIS DAD.

Dedicated to Francis Marion Davis, V. (born April 17, 1931, to Mr. and Mrs. F. Marion Davis) by his Grandfather, Fletcher Davis.

Oh, the swiftly flying years in their span,
As ever is their wont to do,
Have robbed us of our boy to give the world
a man;
And now these years, they've brought us
you—
And you are mighty like your dad!

And somehow, when I look into your face,
Fond memory leaps this span of years
And then you sort o' seem to take your daddy's place,
With all the flood of hopes and fears—
For you are mighty like your dad!

May both of you so live that both can be Filled with a just and conscious pride
When all the world shall look upon the son and see,
That having caught the father's stride,
He still is mighty like his dad!

FRIENDS.

By Gloria Brumby.

My child, if I'd give you the gift of gifts,
To delight when kisses grow cold,
I'd give you the love of a faithful friend,
That could never grow tired or old.

If I'd have you acquire the highest heights,
I'd not lead you when turkeys depend,
But I'd turn your soul to the golden heart
Where dwells the dear love of a friend.

If I'd sing the praises of worth-while things,
I'd chant not of gold or of gain,
I'd sing not of beauty that melts like snow,
But of friends that loyal remain.

SOUTHERN SUNSHINE.

By M. Rose Akin.

A new and luminous quality
Is spreading by the sun today—
Diffusing light so mightily
O'er earth in beauteous array.

It calls in tones so silvery
Of the days of my early youth
In my soul stir all the poetry;
There is no naming it, in truth!

DRIFTWOOD.

Mrs. H. M. Baggarly.

Did you ever notice the sort o' stuff
That floats on the face of a stream?
It's usually lifeless, at least there's no weight

Or power of resistance it seems;
These invertebrate objects that float down
the stream,

Follow swiftly on with the tide,
For they have no voice to proffer a choice,
So their goal the current decides.

Have you watched the man who unceasingly toils

With the oars as he rows up stream?
There's grit and grace and go in each stroke

And he never looks back it seems;
But with faith and courage he battles the waves

With brain and brawn and soul,
For he rides a boat that will ever float,
And the shore will be his goal.

On the sea of life are you drifting or rowing?

Are you going upstream or down?
If you're putting your all into life's call

Success your efforts will crown;
'Tis the weakling of body, of mind and of soul

The downward whitecaps will ride—
But the man of the hour is the man with power

Who can stem life's turbulent tide.

O WEARY SOUL, ARISE.

By Mrs. Elizabeth Giles Winn.

Tonight the shadows linger and form a mist
of tears,

For I am yearning, longing for those care
free years.

I tell my soul it must not moan,
Because of lost ambitions flown.

Altho at first I fail to rise,
Tomorrow holds another prize;

So firmly stand and face the test,
Remembering that God knows best.

Once we were told, in written word,
That "The pen is mightier than the sword."

My brooding thoughts I have controlled,
A better way I now behold,

I clearly see with open eyes
The shining path to paradise.

Tonight the shadows linger; but out of falling tears

God forms a sparkling rainbow, and sorrow disappears.

THE DOGWOODS ARE IN BLOOM.

Of all the pictures errant fancy paints
None in my heart finds ampler room,
Or bears less of grim Time's blots and taints,
Than that of the dogwoods in bloom!

And the dogwoods—they are again in bloom
In my old Mississippi home,
Brightening the forest path's sombre gloom
Where boyhood's footsteps used to roam!

Then take me back to those woodland ways,
Away from sorrow's blight and doom;
Let me tread them as in boyhood's bright days,

White of soul as the dogwood's bloom!

—Fletcher Davis.

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

By
Will H. Mayes
"All Texans for All Texas"

Avoiding Depression
Texas manufacturers whose business has grown in the last few years until it requires New York office and distribution houses, says that if industrial manufacturers would pay less attention to stock and bond markets, concentrate their investments in money, time and thought in their business they would have little to complain of hard times. Truth is that Texans who have most money in recent years are those who have dropped it in stocks, bonds and other highly speculative ventures in the hope of getting richer than in the business in which they were engaged and with the result which they were familiar.

Building Home Town
It is a joy to come across a citizen who is both able and willing to work for his state or his community. Such a man is Mayor Starcke of Seguin, who is a successful banker, and devotes two-thirds of his time to his city at a salary of only $100 a month. He not only works hard himself, but sees that other city employees work hard. They must be as diligent as bank employees and render an amount of a day's service for every cent they are paid. He says that he is "self-interested in Seguin." The result is that Seguin doesn't have a bonded indebtedness, but 10 miles of paved streets and other improvements that other cities of the same size enjoy. Texan needs more public officials like Mayor Starcke.

Bumper Grain Crops
Texans don't know what to do with the bumper grain crop. At present prices the crop has been produced at a loss. If the bumper crop were able and had storage facilities it would pay them to hold grain for a profitable market and fallow the land next season. There is not a profitable market for bumper crops "close down" for better prices. Maybe the bumper crop will be driven to a Sabbath-day in farming.

Profitable Strawberry Crop
Carroll Springs strawberry growers are happy because they have a big profit this season. The lament is that they didn't have more acreage. They attribute their success largely to cooperation in growing, cultivating, harvesting and marketing. They worked together for the good of all. Over at Hamden, La., 4,000 cars of strawberries were shipped at last report. Bumper crops work cooperatively. There are no better strawberries in the world than in Carroll Springs, and now that the growers know the way, there is no reason why they should not continue to make money.

Brady Oil Refinery
Capital at Brady has started operation of a 300 barrel a day refinery. Oil from nearby fields is used. That is a small refinery, but if it can make a good use of fuel oil as the big refineries and sell as cheaply, local oil should use it all, and in a while the plant would have enlarged. The way to build up industries is for local people to produce them.

Road Building Increases
Actually $1,500,000,000 is being spent for building new roads in this year. Texas will spend $50,000,000, or one-thirtieth the amount. Louisiana's program for $55,000,000. The people earned that good roads contribute to the enjoyment of life and they are willing to pay for them. Most are now built from taxes on gasoline and other vehicles.

New Curo Industry
A machinery equipment of $10,000 a factory is being set at Curo to make tents, wagons, covers, tarpaulins, and porch furniture. This factory should and perhaps will use made products and should it? It expects to employ 25 persons and as many more as storage will justify. Build by helping Texas enterprises.

Texas Gauze Mills
Now has two gauze mills, gauze surgical supplies one at Braunfels, the other at Marshall. Both have announced they are having to increase to supply demands for their sections of the country. Both are making Texas cotton and Texas gauze.

Texas-Made Furniture
You do not know that Texas-made furniture is not made in Texas at present. There is not enough of Texas, for it, but live, medium-priced bedroom, room, living room, kitchen, porch and lawn furniture is made in Texas by Texas labor. At least one factory making this grade of goods has announced that enough Texans are asking for Texas-made furniture to cause it to arrange for a largely increased output. "Texans let's build Texas!"

Eat Texas Shrimp
At a recent meeting of progressive Texans, Inc., a speaker made the statement that he dearly loves shrimp salad, but did not know until recently that shrimp is canned in Texas. After trying a certain brand of Texas shrimp, he pronounced it the best he had ever eaten. This writer has asked other shrimp lovers about the Texas product. Some pronounced it the "best ever," others had never heard of it. Perhaps some Texas industries are a bit too modest about letting their products be known. Anything worth while is worth advertising.

Alamo Memorial
That Texas is beginning to get "Centennial-minded" is shown in the numerous suggestions being made and plans being studied. Stephen F. Austin, a descendant of the famous Texas colonizer, has drawn plans for a memorial statue and crypt to be erected in bronze and white marble on the Alamo plaza at San Antonio, to be ready for dedication March 6, 1936, the centenary of the fall of the Alamo. Many other Texans are evolving ideas to be presented in connection with a centennial celebration.

To Build New Rail Line
General John J. Hulen vice-president of the Fort Worth & Denver, who has a way of doing big things, announces that plans are about complete to begin actual construction on the Denver's new line from Childress, through Wellington to Pampa the latter part of June, and that the work will be pushed rapidly to completion. The Denver line has always been vigilant in the building up of Texas.

Uvalde Grows
The Uvalde Leader-News reports there are more business firms in Uvalde than a year ago, more business houses and fewer vacant buildings. The paper also says that merchants report a better business than a year ago. Other papers would find like conditions in their towns if they took the trouble to investigate.

Fruit Exhibit
The Lower Rio Grande Valley fruit growers plan a $7,500 fruit exhibit at the Texas State Fair next fall under direction of Editor "Money" Montgomery, this exhibit to be the nucleus for a monster display at the Chicago World's fair in 1933.

Expecting More Business
Instead of curtailing its passenger service the Burlington-Rock Island railway lines will add a new night train service between Dallas and Houston and Galveston beginning August 1. The Missouri-Pacific has adopted as its slogan: "Let's get enough business today to put another man back to work."

Potato Chip Factory
San Marcos has added to its industries a potato chip factory. The factory employs six persons and uses some 3,000 pounds of raw potatoes a week. The business will be extended to include Seguin. Lockhart, New Braunfels and Luling.

Shipping To Russia
Manufacturers of cotton culling machinery at Lockhart have recently sold 18 cotton seed culling machines to Russia to be used in Turkestan China in culling light seed and trash from planting seed. The price was $750 each.

DESIRABLE BUSINESS LOTS FOR SALE.

Three thousand dollars, on easy terms, will buy two business lots on North Front Street, situated between the Hondo Fire House and the Horger Shoe Shop. Will sell both together or single. If sold separately $1,400.00 will take the vacant lot and $1,600.00 the lot with store building. This is the closest-in business property that is now available for building purposes. Better get it now. For terms and other particulars apply to the owner, Alfred A. Bader, or either member of HONDO LAND CO. Geo. H. Kimmey, Phone 172. Fletcher Davis, Phone 127.

Carolina Woman

Lost 47 Lbs.

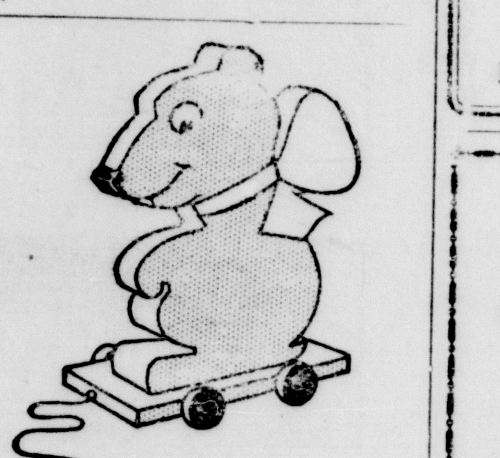

In 3 Months and Feels Years Younger

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning. I then weighed 217 pounds, was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides. "Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, years younger and my weight is 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say."

"I shall never be without Kruschen Salts, will never cease taking my daily dose and more than glad to highly recommend it for the great good that is in it." Mrs. S. A. Solomon, New Bern, N. C., Jan. 1930. "P. S. You may think I am exaggerating by writing such a long letter but truly I feel so indebted to you for putting out such wonderful salts that I cannot say enough."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at W. H. Windrow's and druggists the world over. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

Attention to diet will help—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—the Kruschen way is the safe way to lose fat. Try one bottle and if not joyfully satisfied—money back.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

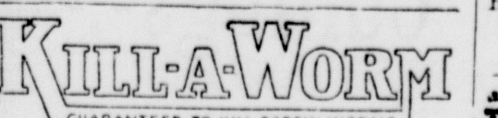

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria have him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drug store; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

Sweets "K. O." Spinach In Colgate Diet Experiments
"Human Guinea Pigs" Swallow Toy Balloons To Aid Science In Food Facts Quest

HAMILTON, N. Y., (Special) — "You can take or leave your spinach but when it comes to a slice of cake, or after-dinner candy, don't leave it."

This advice comes direct from the psychological laboratories of Colgate University where ten students have been swallowing toy balloons for the past seven months as part of a series of experiments to determine whether we should eat the things we like.

Records obtained by the balloon method, according to Dr. Donald A. Laird, director of the laboratories, emphasize the importance of sweet foods in the diet. Dr. Laird even goes a step further. He concludes that two desserts, instead of one, will go a long way toward setting up a perfect digestive process, and will aid in the digestion of heavier foods such as meats, vegetables, and other dishes.

"Some months ago," Dr. Laird said, "we undertook an investigation to discover whether the psychology and physiology of eating were not of equal importance in the field of nutrition."

"Much has been said and written on the physiological side about the vitamins and proteins, but from the psychological angle, the natural, perhaps unconscious, revulsion of feeling that accompanies the enforced eating of foods we do not really care for but eat because 'they are good for us', there has been little done in the way of investigation."

Sweets Aid Digestion
"Tests were made on a picked group of Colgate students who were employed to act as 'human guinea pigs' and records were obtained of the flow of saliva, emotional reactions as indicated by breathing, stomach contractions and the flow of gastric juices."

"Test meals were fed to the students and analyses made of the contents of the stomach at frequent intervals. Delicate instruments recorded accurately the digestive reactions of the subjects during the tests."

"The data obtained from the measurement of the gastric juices is perhaps the most sensational because it can be more easily translated into conclusions of benefit to everyone. Salty tastes, it was found, stimulate to a slight degree the gastric flow, while bitter or sour tastes have no effect. Sweet tastes are by far the greatest stimulators of these juices, a plenty ful supply of which is essential to good digestion." Dr. Laird said that chocolate bar was found to have the most marked effect.

Using a chart to illustrate his point, Dr. Laird explained how the gastric flow begins as soon as the first taste of food reaches the mouth, increasing steadily until within about one hour after dinner

The results, he stated, were immediately obvious.

"From this it is logical to conclude," he said, "that a second dessert taken about one hour after dinner in the form of a few pieces of candy, some sweet cakes, in fact anything that is sweet, is not only a pleasant aftermath to the dinner, but is really a valuable aid to good digestion."

Investigation to Continue
Dr. Laird was assisted in his experiments by Cameron Farquhar and Fletcher C. Waller on stomach contractions, Wayne G. Benedict, Jr., on flow of saliva, and Francis L. Tomlins on gastric secretions, the latter phase being under the supervision of Byron S. West, M.D. Altogether about ten students doing advanced work in the laboratory were engaged in gathering data from the "human guinea pigs."

The investigation, Dr. Laird stated, will be continued in an effort to unearth further data to substantiate his theory that sherbets, desserts, or the candy dish are just as essential to good health and digestion, as spinach and other vitamin-heavy foods because of the favorable psychological reaction which results.

It reaches its peak, diminishing rapidly after that time.

"From this record," Dr. Laird continued, "we learned that between one and two hours after eating a normal dinner, the natural flow of gastric juices reaches a vanishing point. But unfortunately for ourselves, all the food in the stomach has not been completely digested in this short time and more gastric juices are needed. We had already learned that the sweet taste acted as the greatest stimulator and in order to bring the gastric flow back somewhere near the level it attained during the meal, further sweets were given."

your old hens. Chick orders booked with hatcheries this year over the State are approximately fifty per cent of normal. This will have an effect upon egg production and prices this fall and winter.

Wife—Oh, George, I dropped my diamond ring off my finger and I can't find it anywhere!
Hubb—Don't worry any longer, dear; I found it in my trousers pocket—The Pathfinder.

"Hello, Bert, going to the doctor again? I thought he had cured you of your old complaint."
"He did, but I have another one now."
"What seems to be the trouble?"
"I just got his bill this morning—The Pathfinder.

A 3d Dinner for 4

Skelly, director, home economics, Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville; Mrs. Cone Johnson, Tyler; Profs. D. Scoates, agricultural engineering, and Ernest Langford, architecture, of the college on house planning; and S. E. Asbury, division of chemistry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, in "Untold Texas Stories."

The general theme of the program this year will be "increasing the profit, comfort, culture, influence and power of every farm family." As in former years, there will be divisions of the program especially suited to the different groups of men, women, boys and girls. These will include lectures and demonstrations on such general topics as clothing, house planning, furnishing and beautification, feeding the family, cultural values in living, livestock and livestock products, poultry raising, field and orchard. Plays, community singing and motion pictures are being planned to supplement educational features.

If you do not have excellent laying hens, there never was a better time than there is now for getting rid of your old, poor quality hens, and buy excellent producing young hens, as a great many people are going out of the poultry business on account of the cheap price of eggs. You can practically sell your old flocks for marketing purposes, and buy good quality laying hens at around fifty cents each, which is practically the same as you would be getting for

THRIFT dinners are of unusual interest at this season. When there are so many interesting things in the clothing shops to be bought, why spend all of one's money in one place—the grocery store? Especially when ninety-nine-out-of-a-hundred cents will buy a meal like this one:

MENU
Baked Spareribs with Sauerkraut 43¢
Mashed Potatoes and Turnips 8¢
Lettuce and Tomato Salad 18¢
Bread and Butter 8¢
Grapefruit Tapioca 19¢
Demi-Tasse 3¢
Baked Spareribs with Sauerkraut: Wash and drain one and one-half pounds of spareribs and dust with salt and pepper. Place in a baking pan. Pour two-thirds cup water over and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees—for about one hour, basting occasionally. Heat the contents of one No. 2 can of sauerkraut and pile in the center of a hot platter. Arrange the spareribs around the kraut.
Grapefruit Tapioca: Drain one-half of a No. 2 can of grapefruit and arrange in the bottom of a greased baking dish. Sprinkle one tablespoon sugar over. Combine one-half cup of the grapefruit syrup with one-half cup of orange juice. Bring to boiling, add one and one-half tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, and cook in a double boiler for fifteen minutes. Beat one egg yolk slightly, add three tablespoons sugar to the yolk and then add this to the tapioca. Pour over the grapefruit and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees—for about twenty-five minutes. Make a meringue by beating the white of one egg until stiff, adding two tablespoons sugar and a few grains of salt, and then beating again until very smooth and stiff. Pile on top of the pudding and return to a slow oven—300 degrees—for fifteen minutes.*
